Dear All

LETTER OF APPRECIATION FOR THE RECEIPT OF THE ENDOWMENT

This letter is with regards to the endowment (donation) received from your beneficial trust. As I am joyfully appreciative and aware of the fact that, this letter won't in any way be a certain type of a repayment, neither a return in favour of some sort, but to say cheerfully and from the bottom of my heart. I thank you for what you did for me, but mostly for the future of South Africa by investing in my education.

As I am sitting in front of this computer, which I have thanks to the donation from your trust, I begin to remember the hardships I have faced throughout my educational life at the University of Cape Town, sometimes the late hand-ins, sometimes the sleepless nights on campus, and sometimes sadly submitting a rather below par effort or work, just due to the fact that I couldn't afford the convenience which is a true necessity at a university level, of having my own computer. And it is my greatest pleasure to say that, this letter is the very first thing I did with the newly acquired machine.

As a person who is working towards a research-focused career, and who also conducts a lot of research due to the academic demands, I am grateful to say that, I now thanks to you, have the resources to perform cutting edge research, which hopefully later will be a ground-breaking one.

I can try to expound the magnitude of my appreciation, but I'm ascertained that words will surely not be enough to explain how grateful I am because of your wonderful deed. And I do hope that companies like you may increase, and that you continue without being discouraged, to invest in human capital of South Africa.

I truly am grateful

Yours Sincerely

Sinenhlanhla Mdluli(Mr) (B.BusSci(Finance),University of Cape Town
